A summary of the events leading up to the exodus is perhaps required at this point. We know, from both the historical and biblical records, that the people of Egypt thought that the gods were angry during this period; clearly, both the Tempest Stele and the Bible talk of great storms deluging the otherwise arid lands of Egypt. Whilst working on the new edition of Jesus, Last of the Pharaohs, the author Ralph Ellis discovered a large biblical quotation on an ancient Egyptian stele. The quotation appears to be two separate accounts, from both the Egyptian and the Israelite perspective, of a conference in Egypt, discussing the way in which the biblical Exodus should be organized.
